THE ROYAL COMMONWEALTH SOCIETY (New South Wales Branch)

The Society Ode: “We, the Royal Commonwealth Society, shall continue to foster goodwill and affection between peoples of the Commonwealth so that all may live together in peace, harmony and understanding.”

About our Society

Objects of our Society include:

The objects of the Society shall be to promote within the state of New South Wales, Australia and elsewhere, an understanding of the nature and workings of the Commonwealth, and of factors which shape the lives of its peoples and the policies of its governments.

Underlying the work of the Society is the belief that an understanding of the Commonwealth, and a commitment to its fundamental values, is key to creating successful integrated multi-cultural societies across the world. These objects may be pursued by all or any of the methods set out in the Charter of The Royal Commonwealth Society, to which this Society shall be affiliated.

A Policy of The Royal Commonwealth Society:

“To promote a policy of reaching out to the younger generation and other potential new members and other organisations”.
